them happy they don't want to do this like I don't know the queen of cups has done enough it doesn't necessarily mean no I think it is kind of like a breakup unless this person is about to change or this situation or this I don't know whatever it is because I don't even know if it's a person whatever it is it's at this point it's a hindrance at this point it's a burden at this point it's too much and it's something that needs to be cleansed away kind of thing and I really think the queen of cups still cares but they also have you know feelings feelings are very complex and it's a it's an energy of a person that wants to do something on their own they want to complete it on their own they want to have a goal and they want to make that goal reality and that's what I see page of Pentacles three of Pentacles in the sun they have a desire to do this they have a desire to a desire to invest in something else other than giving to this double energy like damn like I care about you but but shit okay that's what it's giving what does this energy here like I can't give up I can't give it you know give up my life I can't lay my life down we have the night of cups energy here what is this

16

Queen of Cups

Queen of Cups: compassion · empathy

on a bigger scale this queen of cups they're meant to shine on a bigger scale it is what it is like some people I don't know how to say like for some people and I'm just this is just an example it is just an example because it's not true for everybody okay there are some people that marriage it just does not it's not going to work for them like being bound to somebody legally or whatever that's just not going to work for everybody especially somebody that does not make a marriage easy they use the marriage as like a tool or something like that that's not going to work not for everybody some people it's a beautiful thing beautiful occasion beautiful life you know everything right but for some people let's say if this queen of cups is like and it's not for everybody it's just an example let's say this queen of cups is like an artist and maybe the person that she's with does not like confirmation the person that she's with don't like the fact that she's this artist and you know whatever the case maybe and that becomes like okay so I got to let one of you go at some point it's going to be I got to let one of you go even if it was a drug let's say it was a drug let's say this queen of cups is still an artist but this queen of cups has this long drawn out addiction that nobody knows about and they know that shit time is almost up or something is getting to a point where you know it's something here that is it's so familiar that it has to don't let that shit take you down because it's so familiar kind of thing I don't know if it's a relationship in addiction or drug I don't know but it's something that's toxic in somebody's life it's something that's not helping it's something that's creating a glass ceiling where a person can't move and that's what that's not what somebody's

17

The Sun

The Sun: clarity · joy

here for I see the sun the star somebody's here to shine here to do something so whatever that devil energy that's not going to work for you if you hear to do what you hear to do that energy is not going to work for you that energy if we're talking about going up and doing greater that energy is not going to work and I said that because sometimes people don't be trying to do better and greater and stuff like that and this may work for them I'm just saying I'm just being honest some people are comfortable in that energy but it slowly takes them down I don't know if everybody can see it or if everybody's aware of it like I'm talking about the people that are actually going through it I don't know because sometimes people see it and the person that's going through it they don't see it whether it's a bad relationship whether it's drugs sometimes they don't see it that is doing something to them so I'm just saying whoever this is I'm talking about this person right here once better they want better they're not trying to hold on to this they're tired of giving who I'm talking about on this board is tired they're tired seven of pinnacles tired okay judgment seven of pinnacles judgment is like I'm not I'm tired I'm going in the house I can't do this shit no more what is this energy here

23

The Devil

The Devil: bondage · attachment for the first time but it's like they know they got to let go of whatever this devil energy is they know like I don't know how everybody knows because it's it's different for everyone but there are signs there are messages there are ways that if you listen spiritually it will let you know that that has to be let go or you ain't going to get nowhere or you ain't going to do what you came here to do there are signs like if something here about this devil energy I got to change if it's holding somebody back if it's holding somebody in place that's not what it's supposed to do until you're ready to break out maybe it was holding somebody in place for the time being maybe that was necessary but there's a breakout period here it definitely is a breakout period where someone closed as a cycle because they've learned the lessons they had to learn and given everything they could give that's another thing somebody gave everything they could give there's nothing left to 24

Judgement

what is this energy anything we got the page of swords energy what about this and then the five of pinnacles I don't like that because it makes me feel like somebody is looking to destroy what it is that you're trying to build like they do it on purpose or this was set here to do this on purpose it was put in front of you to make this happen to you or to it's almost it's even like as if something is watching to make sure that something stays five of pinnacles or damage it's like they don't want something they don't want you to realize something it's like we're like it's okay I'm gonna say it like this if it's an addiction I would say there is a force or a spirit that does not want you to overcome that and of course it's the the I don't know how to say the conflict the tension that's the battle right there and if it's a person yeah the person is trying to hold you back on purpose now I'm not this is not everybody's situation but there there are signs to let you know that there you can't get away or you can't do what you want to do and that's not what you're hearing you ain't you ain't here to be no prisoner to nobody or no thing it's something about freedom you know but I do feel like this force is an active force this this negative whatever it is I believe it's active I don't think it's just something that you just wake up from and you just quit it I feel like it's actively holding somebody and that's why I'm like not it's and we got the five of pinnacles as if it like feeds off of somebody sadness it feeds off of the fact that somebody can't do them it feeds off of that I don't know who it is but it's holding somebody back it's holding somebody in place
