02

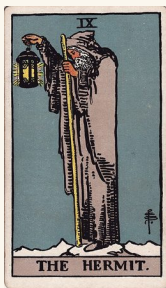

Eight of Swords

Eight of Swords: restriction · fear

And then the eight of sword this sound like somebody has a problem with what they don't know They have a problem with what they don't know what they don't understand they have a problem with what they can't see They have a problem With what's hidden from them It could even be something that's unconscious But I feel okay The moon And the eight of sword Is a kind of close energy But the moon is way more mysterious and way more deep Like as deep as the ocean as deep as a space that's the moon But the eight of sword is more like a glass ceiling and that's how I know is somebody that really cannot understand In a five a sword being the second card that shows me that somebody really has a problem They disagree with what they don't understand they disagree with what they can't understand They really do I even feel like it's something that they have within them that they have to break But I don't think they have determined that I really feel like they're more so focused on whatever this moon energy is What is this moon energy? Hmm What is this moon? What is this we have the eight of pinnacles here Something about a person's scale level a person's talent Okay, a person Doing what they do they don't agree with it because they don't understand it They don't know where it comes from It's beyond their comprehension Maybe they don't want to understand Maybe they can't understand Maybe they were told some shit that wasn't true I don't know what it is, but it's something that they have to really learn how to look within themselves instead of trying to look at somebody else Like they need to ask themselves why does it bother you? That's what people need to start asking themselves when they get bothered like at least know why it bothers you What is this energy here? It's like in code or something like that like okay, let's say if you were a Hit maker Like you know how to write good songs. Let's say you are an artist that every Piece of artwork that you create it just sells out within seconds Is someone looking at you like what the hell are you doing? You doing some demonic shit No, they don't understand your level of skill. They don't understand and then is judgment here They're really and then it's the king of pinnacles They're really judging somebody because of their skills or what if you are a person that maybe you I don't know you make hats or maybe you do makeup or something like that. I don't know like Is something here where they don't understand what makes you so special literally What makes you so special they do not understand it it's mysterious to them But they're equating it to something like oh you must be doing Some dark magic or some shit. I swear to goodness. That's what it looks like I swear to goodness. It looks like they're judging some judgment card came out and then the king of pentacles They're really judging somebody because they're Successful. They're really judging somebody harshly because they don't understand What makes them different? Maybe this is a person that's doing the same thing as you maybe not because sometimes it don't even take a person doing what you do They just don't understand what you do What is this energy here? I think that this is just someone that Really it really challenges their mind It really challenges their mind. They're a heart Their beliefs their understanding Like what else is so many things that it could challenge That moon energy is very deep. But one thing about it is somebody gives eight of pentacles Like this is there's some mysterious as people walking the walk in the earth There's some mysterious as people and Yeah, like someone is thinking about this relationship with this mysterious as person That's what it looked like to me and we got the hangman at the bottom that speaks like volumes right there the hangman coming out The hangman they're really looking at you differently They're looking at you differently, but they still don't understand you That is so crazy and this is somebody from the past. Like they're trying to label somebody that's abundant the devil Like for real and it's a seven of cups. I'm telling you it's an illusion. It's delusion. They you know I don't know how to say man They have their own idea of something or their own way of thinking about something and They can't see it no other way. They feel like somebody does something negative to be successful They feel like your abundance comes from something negative instead of it coming from you Sometimes a person is delusional Sometimes that is the case sometimes they read and it's the moon was the first card Sometimes they really don't know it be such a deep mystery that They cannot understand it. It's never been explained to them. They do not know it don't need to be explained to them None of this your existence does not really need to be explained to know damn body People need to stop treating people like shit Okay, just because of their confusions and delusions, you know because sometimes people be on that shit Okay, and it is what it is what it is, but don't do that shit.
