HOW TO READ THIS

Every block below is one card moment from the reading. The card art and name are what the reader just turned over; the two bold words are the card's core teaching meaning; the paragraph under it is exactly what she said while that card sat on the board.

01

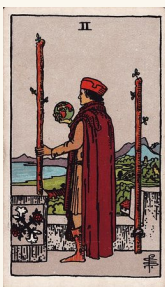

King of Wands

King of Wands: vision · leadership

We have the king of wands energy. This is the third time that we're having the king of wands

02

Two of Wands

Two of Wands: planning · decisions within the first few cards today, the third time. King of wands, two of wands, I know that wasn't

03

The Devil

The Devil: bondage · attachment

the devil. That's the devil. I'm not even going to say, what's this energy here with this? This king of wands is getting a bad reputation today. I don't know what's going on with the king of

04

The Emperor

The Emperor: authority · structure

wands today. And people are trying to say, the emperor is trying to save the king of wands, king of wands waking up. I really feel like this is something, it's like a continuation.

05

The Star

The Star: hope · renewal

What is this energy here? We have the star but like this king of wands is meant for something. It's like you know what? It's so crazy but like people have like deep karma sometimes but like they work their way through over a long period of time sometimes and sometimes they really, really make it out of whatever that dark like sometimes it be deep deep like everybody got a different level of karma. This one right here, they are still meant for something great. I don't know how to say, it's not on us, it's on God. If God feels like, and I'm you know, I'm just saying, if God feel like this king of wands has made it out of their toxic ways because I see that this tool wants is going away from the devil. It's like they're trying to move away from that energy and go towards the star. So the devil is like I don't even like to say this but they also put capricorn there but not to say that capricorn is the devil or anything like that but just like what the card would like represent but then the star represents Aquarius and that's so a capricorn is where all the structures are built and stuff and Aquarius is where the pieces that don't need to be there are taken out and it's liberated and the ceiling is opened and they don't want to go towards the devil energy. They don't want to go towards the imprisonment, the chains where they just came from. They want to go towards the freedom but the thing is and this is the third reading that I'm seeing this king of wands so I know it's connected. The thing is that they still have to pay the price for whatever they were doing in that energy. Maybe they were sleeping you know spiritually or something like that but they still have to be accountable and even though they have to be accountable they're still chosen like I'm not making the rules for real. There have been plenty of people that really have some crazy as karma and they have done crazy things and horrible things and then they pay for those things and then they become who they're meant to become like God wants you to be who you're meant to become you're going to get your ass whooped for things that you wasn't supposed to do but God does not just want to send people like to some type of damn nation or something that's not for everybody that's for people that don't want to change don't care to change don't care about nobody don't probably don't even care about themselves they may think they care about themselves but most times don't when is this energy but that's not this I think whoever this king of wands is they do care but it doesn't erase the past but I really feel like this is something where these energies they're graduating certain energies have graduated like I don't know you got people that like how can I say like when you went to high school there were people that could kind of breeze through and then you had people that fucking struggled and then you had that one or maybe I don't know if it was maybe one two three you had a few that were like had the teachers cry and like oh my god you made it oh no god like you know because they really didn't think or you know maybe the eyes will just say the eyes were not in their favor but they still walked across the stage like that kind of energy that's what I've been getting in every reading for this king of wands like no matter the horrible things that come up with this king of wands this king of wands has energies fighting for them I don't know who I'm doing this reading for it feel like a special day for somebody but this king of wands has energies fighting for them and they're fighting for themselves but they have some deep ass karma but like I said they still gotta pay but they are chose they are still chosen for something like god chose the warriors too but the warriors make mistakes but god chose the warriors the fighters you know I'm saying the king of wands they have a purpose you know I don't know what somebody did but you know they got to pay but they still chosen for something everybody's chosen for something but we got to pay we got to pay the price we got to pay for our karmas and whatever wands so eight of sword nine of wands energy what is this trash like somebody's up on game when it comes to being trapped so this king of wands is not trapped mentally anymore but they're up on game about the perspective or something that caused them to be stuck or imprisoned they understand something deep this is I don't know who this is but they have a purpose is just that you know I don't know how to say like every element they can all do terrible like the fight the king of wands can do terrible king

King of Swords

King of Swords: authority · truth of cups can do terrible king of sword can do terrible all of the kings and the queen they can all do terrible things in their energy and they all have a spectrum of what you know is good and what like I'm just saying it just maybe looks worse because it's the king of wands I think the king of wands how can I say people would feel like theirs is more severe whatever they did was more severe than any other element or something like that and that may not be true but I see that they're not there anymore yeah we got the emperor they're not there anymore they elevated they graduated like we can't sit here and say okay like this is a simple statement but this is like the energy I'm getting you can't say because somebody went to jail or a prison for a long period of time that they don't deserve to own a business or they don't deserve to you know some people actually change I'm not trying to like some people don't but it's not everybody this king of wands like this is the third reading this king of wands today has proved to me the reader because I've seen three readings with the same energy coming out like this they have proved to me today that they have changed their ways they they recognize what are the things that bind them and control them and what are the things that free them they've recognized those things whether they fucked up in the past or not because they're going to pay for that that's not excluded from this statement they're going to pay for those things but they understand why those things happen and understand who they are as a result of those things they understand what they're meant to do but they also understand that you got to pay for the things and it's just as simple as that but it's a good day for this king of wands still like their emperor came out as an emperor and the emperor also has been coming out I think in every reading will not yet this not this
